Build that side project

Abstract:
In this get together, we will dive into what it's like to work on a full time job and pursue your side project. What should your side project aim to be and how to try your best and make it a success. Mustafa will share insights on his journey of aspiring to become an Indie developer.

Speaker: Mustafa Yusuf
Mustafa is a developer who started his iOS development journey the day Swift was released. In his free time, you will find him working on his indie apps, The Task App and Lingo. He aims to build a product to impact millions, if not billions of lives.
